Ralph C. Mahar Regional School will be hosting a webinar for families with Polly Bath on managing adolescent behavior and setting students up for success for the new school year.

Polly Bath is a widely recognized behavior expert in New England schools and beyond. She consults to and trains administrators, teachers, and paraprofessionals on how to manage and change difficult school behavior. She has gained her reputation most especially by teaching educators how to change the difficult behaviors that have been the most resistant to change.

Ms. Bath has been working with RC Mahar educators over the last year and the beginning of this school year to set up rituals and routines that will allow all students to thrive and succeed. Please join up for this event.

This event is sponsored through the use of Title I and ESSER Funding.
